

Share ▾

Transl

COLLEGE OF NATUROPATHIC PHYSICIANS OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

English

العربية

Afrikaans

беларуская мова

български

català

中文(简体)

April 22, 2015

NOTICE TO THE PROFESSION

Dear Dr. <<Last Name>>:

The College is in the process of examining the issue of delegation of professional activities to both licensed and unlicensed individuals. This issue may arise, for example, where a naturopathic doctor has his or her assistant or employee (who may or may not be a licensed health professional) perform a naturopathic medical service, or part of a naturopathic medical service.

The College will provide more information to the profession as it becomes available. We anticipate that a policy concerning delegation of naturopathic medical service related activities will be made available in the near future. This policy may have an effect upon your practice.

In the meantime, we wish to remind you that you are personally responsible for ensuring that your assistants and employees are properly trained, qualified, and competent to perform any tasks that they assist you with. As a registrant of this College, you are ultimately responsible for all facets of naturopathic medical care provided in your practice.

Yours truly,

Howard Greenstein, B.Sc., M.A., M.B.A.
Registrar and CEO

Copyright © 2015 College of Naturopathic Physicians of BC, All rights reserved.

unsubscribe from this list update subscription preferences

MailChimp